Zane, Platoff

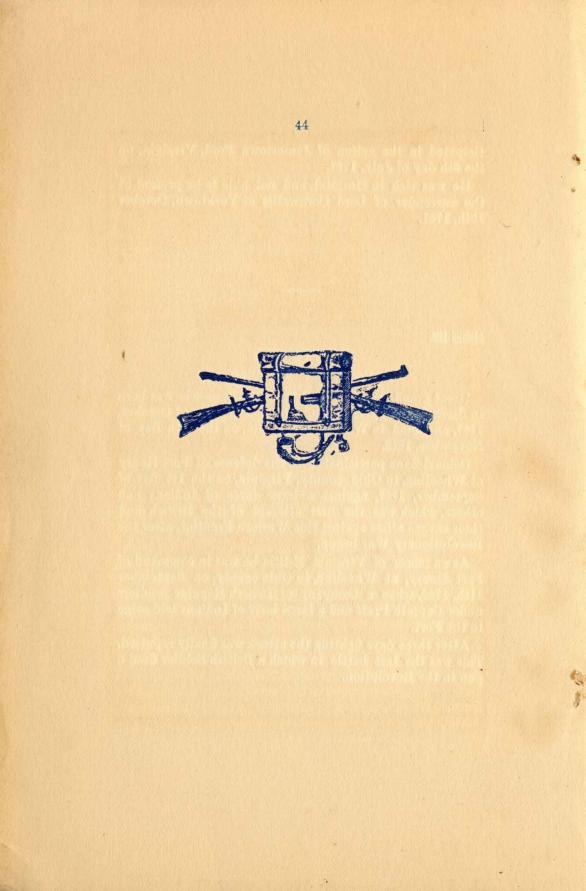

Residence: Wheeling.

Great grand-son of Colonel Ebenezer Zane who was born in Berkeley county, Virginia, on the 7th day of October, 1747, and died in Wheeling, Virginia, on the 19th day of November, 1812.

Colonel Zane participated in the defense of Fort Henry at Wheeling, in Ohio county, Virginia, on the 1st day of September, 1777, against a large force of Indians and others, which was the first attempt of the British and their savage allies against this Western Frontier, after the Revolutionary War began.

As an officer of Virginia Militia he was in command of Fort Henry, at Wheeling, in Ohio county, on September 11th, 1782, when a Company of British Regular Soldiers under Captain Pratt and a large body of Indians laid seige to the Fort.

After three days fighting the attack was finally repulsed. This was the last battle in which a British Soldier fired a gun in the Revolution.
